BREEDERS ORGANIZE STRONG LIVE STOCK ASSOCIATION.

May 14th dates the beginning of one of the most important movements started in behalf of the live stock interests of Western Nebraska.

Sixty-five stockmen gathered from many portions of Western Nebraska, dropped their work at home, at this, the busiest part of the year to meet at North Platte on this day to discuss the problems of the western live stock breeders and to form the nucleus of an association of live stockmen which promises to be one of the most important of the west, and the Western Nebraska Improved Live Stock Association was organized.

The entire day was given over to the purpose of this meeting. A conference was called in the morning to make plans for the afternoon meeting, and committees appointed to form a tentative outline for the forming of an association. The afternoon meeting opened with an attendance of nearly one hundred stockmen, farmers and others interested in the success of the stock industry of Western Nebraska.

S. R. McKelvie made the opening address, setting forth the world's problem of food production, and the part of breeder in this war. His remarks in part were as follows: "The sentiment of people whose feet are firmly planted on the soil is slow to move, but when once aroused these people will fight hardest and longest. The country which has the last sack of flour will win the war. Distribution goes hand in hand with production. Organization is the watchword of the hour. After the war comes the reorganization. It is vitally important as a measure which looks forward to the reconstruction of our country after the war is over that you build permanently now. You as breeders of live stock are gathered here to consider organizing, and you will do it."

E. W. Crossgrove, who has done much toward blazing the trail for the Shorthorn breed, was "Dad" of the meeting. Although in very poor health, he made a few brief but pointed remarks, which, bearing the weight of experience, were extremely eloquent.

K. P. Warner, of the University of Nebraska, was largely responsible for the broadening of the organization to include owners of pure bred stock as well as breeders.

The constitution proposed by the committee was discussed, revised and finally adopted. A nomination committee was appointed and upon their recommendation the following officers were elected: S. J. Koch, Hershey, Pres.; E. W. Crossgrove, Farnam, Vice-pres.; Frank Strollberg, North Platte, Treasurer; Bert Barber, North Platte, Sec'y. The following were elected as representatives of the several breeds, acting with the officers to form an executive committee: Percherons, Thomas Doolittle, North Platte; Shires Ed Coates, Keystone; Hereford, A. Gaudreau, Farnam; Shorthorns, G. Brownfield, Hershey; Galloways, O. W. Fairchild, Wellfleet; Angus, S. R. Pattison, Maxwell; Holstein, A. R. Sharrab, North Platte; Poland China, Alex Baldwin, Dickens; Duroc Jersey, Herbert Stille, Farnam.

The monotony of the program was broken by the excellent music furnished by Miss Sadie Trevillo and Paul Harrington.

Following the meeting the visiting stockmen and townspeople were brought together and royally entertained with a supper banquet by the Sammy Girls.

The films for the Red Cross picture show where Mr. McKelvie was to address the general public in the evening misused train connections and thru a misunderstanding the theatre was closed. When the doors were however, finally opened, but a small crowd remained to hear Mr. McKelvie deliver a very able talk upon the paramount topic of the hour, "The War and Our Personal Obligations in It."

TUETONS ARE PREPARING FOR THIRD AND BIGGER DRIVE.

With the German high command to all evidences preparing for a third and possibly the hardest thrust against the allied lines, there is today a sinister silence hanging over the entire western front, as compared with activities of several weeks ago. Six weeks have passed, weeks of ideal weather for fighting and yet the Tuetons have remained literally inactive during the time, other than constantly strengthening their reserve and bringing to the fore additional artillery and equipment.

On the two battle fronts of the west, during the past drives, there were used about 1,800,000 men in the plan of the drive and gain a quicker victory. These plans have "gone by the board," Von Hindenburg has been forced to discard his offensive tactics as fruitless and Berlin has sent new leaders to the western front to aid him, von Mackenzon being among them. There are now concentrated on the western front the military brain and brawn of the German empire.

BOY SCOUTS COMPLETE LIBERTY BOND CAMPAIGN.

Troops No. 1 and 2, Boy Scouts of which Carl Hollman and Paul Ohman are scoutmasters respectively, have completed their Liberty Bond campaign and report subscriptions totaling $35,200. Troop No. 1 secured subscriptions amounting to $22,900 and Troop No. 2 secured $12,300. Fourteen members of Troop No. 1 and three members of Troop No. 2 sold ten or more bonds and are thereby entitled to United States service emblems. The boys of Troop No. 1 who will receive the medals are: Wm. Reynolds, Fay Yearsley, Herbert Turpie, Louis Breternitz, George Dent, Leo Leon, Roland Locke, James Liddell, Junior Hinman, Robert Hoagland, Chas. Edwards, William Elder, Elmer Pease and Theodore Payne. Members of Troop 2 who are entitled to medals are Rover Hastings, Robert Burke, and Frank Mooney.

Seven of the boys won medals in the second loan drive and their work in the last campaign entitles them to bars to attach to the medals. These boys are George Dent, James Liddell, Charles Edwards, William Elder, Fay Yearsley, Louis Breternitz and Wm. Reynolds.

In the Third loan campaign the boys did not begin the work until the regular campaign had about closed. That they secured subscriptions amounting to $35,200 after the town had been worked is evidence that the boys are hustlers.

Fay Yearsley sold the largest number of bonds, twenty-three, and Robert Hoagland the largest amount $2,950.

Splendid Patriotic Meeting.

A very enthusiastic patriotic meeting was held at the Montague school house south of town Wednesday evening. The seating capacity of the building was not nearly large enough to accommodate the attendance. A program of songs and recitations was given by the pupils of the school, followed by selections by a quartette composed of Messrs. Harrington, Birge Munger, Mitchell, a very strong speech by J. T. Keefe. Following the program ice cream and soft drinks were sold and a pillow made by pupils of the school sold at auction.

Rushing Men Over.

A late Washington dispatch says: Thousands of men called to the colors in the last draft will be in France before the end of summer. It was officially stated today. Many who have long since given up hope of ever getting over, or at least not without six months of training, will see service on the firing line this summer. Improving the methods of training and generally speeding up in this branch of the service will make this possible. Facilities for transport have also increased and are improving daily.

Must Cut Sugar Consumption.

If the United States is to meet the demands for sugar during 1918, consumption will have to be reduced 15 per cent from 1917.

In making this statement Gurdon W. Wattles, federal food administrator for Nebraska, points out the imperative necessity of complying with the sugar regulations, which are promulgated to meet necessary requirements.

"The total demands based on 1917 consumption, aggregate 7,845,423 tons with available supplies of 5,759,435 tons, or a deficit of 1,855,455 tons," says Mr. Wattles.
